Formation Biologics Recognized As One of the Most Promising Life Science Companies by Rice Alliance

(May 31, 2016) – Formation Biologics was recognized as one of the Rice Alliance 10 Most Promising Life Science Companies at the 2016 Texas Life Science Forum hosted by the Rice Alliance for Technology and Entrepreneurship, BioHouston, and Texas Healthcare and BioScience Institute. The companies were chosen by industry experts and investors.

The event is one of the largest life science venture capital conferences in the Southwest and featured more than 40 industry and investment speakers. Among more than 600 attendees were venture capitalists and other investors, entrepreneurs, industry representatives, business leaders and service providers.

About The Rice Alliance for Technology and Entrepreneurship

The Rice Alliance for Technology and Entrepreneurship is Rice University's nationally recognized initiative devoted to the support of technology commercialization, entrepreneurship education and the launch of technology companies. It was formed as a strategic alliance of three Rice schools: the George R. Brown School of Engineering, the Wiess School of Natural Sciences and the Jesse H. Jones Graduate School of Business. Since inception in 1999, more than 1,700 early-stage companies have presented at the 170+ programs hosted by the Rice Alliance and raised more than $3.3 billion in funding.
